Conclusion:

Based on the feedback received from students, it is clear that the College has many strengths, including dedicated and knowledgeable teachers and a well-stocked library. However, there are also areas for improvement, such as increasing the availability of teachers outside of class for additional support and addressing concerns about the availability of parking and the condition of some classrooms and equipment. The college should continue to prioritize gathering and analyzing feedback from students in order to identify areas for improvement and ensure that all students have a positive experience at the college.
